

Together.

The meaning of the word together has taken on an expanded meaning to me during these past many months as the world deals with the COVID-19 pandemic. In the past, together brought visions of friends and family gathering, maybe around the Thanksgiving table, or otherwise gathering in person, in mostly familiar surroundings like home, school, work and community.

Now together has a broader, deeper meaning to me. We are called upon to act as one nation and one world to overcome this medical and economic crisis together. It's the only way it will work for each of us.

I am optimistic that we will emerge stronger, smarter, and more efficient, even more caring and more understanding. My optimism grows as I hear numerous stories of people reaching out to help others.

As a result of many people working together, 253 students were selected to receive interest-free loans from Lancaster Dollars for Higher Learning to attend the colleges and universities of their choice this academic year. Students certainly worked hard to move forward with their education. Teachers, parents, coaches, their families and many more people certainly assisted. The dedicated staff of LDHL smoothed the process of applying for a loan, and our committed Board of Directors and a core of volunteers shared their time and skills to assure fiscally sound organizational operations.

In addition, the loans distributed would not have been possible without the selfless generosity of the many donors whose names are included in the Honor Roll of Donors.

We're joining together to help educate future scientists, nurses, doctors, teachers, public servants, entrepreneurs and so many more leaders and contributing community members. While attending college may not look quite the same in the future, I believe wholeheartedly in the enduring value of education.

As Lancaster Dollars for Higher Learning enters its 60th year as a Lancaster nonprofit, we pledge to continue to serve the people of Lancaster and work together to help make educational opportunities attainable.

Together, much is possible.

In appreciation,

Jean Bednarski

President

Leaving a Legacy

As part of LDHL's mission to provide financial resources to Lancaster County residents in support of their post-secondary education goals, we created Legacy Loans.

Legacy Loans, which are given in the same amount as Traditional Loans, are named after an individual, group or organization that has donated at the $10,000 level, either as a one-time donation or over several years. The loan can also be named in honor of an individual, group or organization. Students can only receive a Legacy Loan one time, and the donor can set small preferences, such as specific major or specific school.

This year, we were fortunate to be able to give out a total of 30 Legacy Loans, up from 27 in 2019, thanks to the addition of three new Legacy Donors, who explain below why supporting LDHL's mission is so important to them. We also invite you to read about the recipients of this year's Legacy Loans in the next few pages.

Reyna ITS

"Reyna ITS management believes that education is essential in providing individuals with the opportunity to grow professionally and personally, and as they do, their contributions to their profession, society, community and family will transcend many generations to come. The model that LDHL has implemented multiplies the opportunities of education to MANY individuals and catalyzes students' accountability for the future and well-being of others. This is a model that Reyna ITS embraces and is honored to be a part of."

Reyna ITS is an award-winning, client-focused information technology professional services company using innovative ways to help businesses succeed. Since inception in 2008, with a talented pool of IT professionals and strong strategic business partnerships, they have served clients in the public and private sectors with a variety of services.

John and Susan Garofola

"We believe in the value of secondary education. Interest-free loans from Lancaster Dollars for Higher Learning provide a means to an end for many students who might not otherwise have this life changing opportunity for success. Paying back loans provides good life lessons and allows the recipient to give back so others may prosper. We are happy to invest in the future of current students by donating to Lancaster Dollars for Higher Learning."

Art and Marcia Pangburn

"We can't think of a more personally rewarding or worthy cause than helping deserving young people continue their journey towards higher education. LDHL is a program that works, not only benefiting students, but the greater Lancaster community as well. That's a win, win for everybody and a program well worth supporting!"

Words of Gratitude

"Through all the ups and downs, God did indeed work all things together for good, and I thank LDHL for their role in that grand plan."

— Rebecca W.

"LDHL played a key role in helping meet the financial demand of my education by removing the stress of high interest rates."

— Ryan C.

"The LDHL loan took a huge weight and burden off my finances, because the repayment amount was manageable with other loan payments and saved me thousands of dollars in interest." — Tasha B.

"Thank you for all you have done to serve me in my educational endeavors. I appreciate the assistance LDHL has provided in helping me reach this milestone."

— Natalie H.

"Thank you all so much for what you do! I have appreciated the opportunity to take this loan very much. Keep doing what you're doing!"

— Lynzee H.

"Thank you so much! The loan was definitely helpful in my education and I hope that you can continue to offer interest-free loans for students!"

— Korinne P.

"LDHL is an amazing program, and I'm very thankful for their interest-free loans that have assisted me in earning two degrees that have led me to a career that I am passionate about."

— Kendra B.

"I can't tell you how much this loan meant to me when I got it. It really helped ends meet and enabled me to go to the school I wanted to. I'm glad others have the same opportunity." — Jessica W.

"LDHL has blessed me, and now, my younger sister, with interest-free loans that give us the freedom to focus on living our lives and learning as much as we can with less to stress over. Thank you LDHL!" — Holly L.

"LDHL gave me an opportunity to get a loan interest-free, which was so helpful when it came to paying bills and paying school loans back! Honestly, if it wasn't for LDHL, I don't think my husband and I would have been able to buy our first house two years ago!"

— Holli S.

"This loan has definitely been a blessing in and of itself for getting me through my four years of college. I very much appreciate what you all are doing at LDHL!" — Eirene H.

"My education would not have been made possible without the help of LDHL. I am so thankful to the organization for providing financial stability during some of the most expensive years of my life."
